MONKS OF MUNICH, BEER OF MUNICH

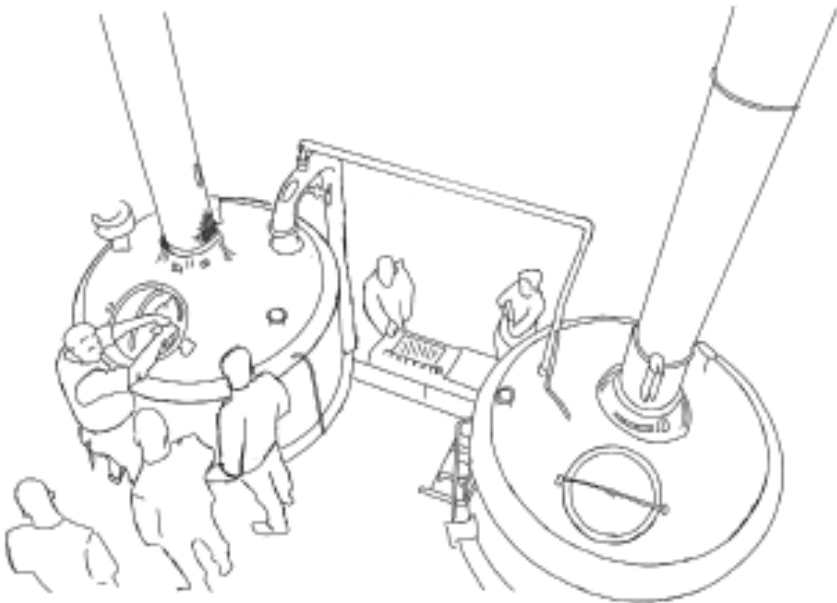

From monastic tradition to current brewing.

It is a place full of history. The Nockherberg is located in the eastern part of Munich between Au and Giesing at the Isarhochufer. Since 1634 beer has been brewed on this hill, first by monks and then by the brewery “Paulaner“.

The first documented proof of the existence is a letter of complaint from 1634, with the request “for decided remedy of the cloistered brewing- and bar industry in the monastery Neudeck”.

But the monks of Paulaner fearlessly maintained their tradition and more and more people tolerated the selling of beer. By introducing the world-famous “Salvator“ craft beer in Neudeck, the lay brother, Frater Barnabas Still, perfected the monastic tradition of brewing.

After closing the monastery, the state initially tried to manage the brewery. However, in 1813 Franz Xaver Zacherl became the owner of the brewery which was renamed to “Aktiengesellschaft Paulanerbräu Salvatorbrauerei” in 1899.

DINNER WITH A MASTER BREWER

For the ones who love beer and want to know everything about it: Let's get lead through the Paulaner-brewery at Nockherberg by the master brewer, Uli Schindler, personally. There you will see a lot more about his work and the world of beer-brewing. Round off the day with a 3-course menu, which includes a matching home-brewed beer (0.1l).

STARTER & SEASONAL BEER

Sweet and sour marinated barbecue sausage in a spicy Zipfel-Sud (vegetable-mix)

SECOND COURSE & NOCKHERBERGER

Confit arctic char with warm radish salad and radish-mashed potato

MAIN COURSE & BARNABAS

"three from ox" (cheek/filet/ribs) with Kartoffelpaunzen (potato chunks), pretzel-gnocchi and celery

Attendees: 10 – 15 people

Price per person: €79

DINNER WITH A MASTER BREWER

Experience brewing in all its facets! You can do that on the following limited and special number of evenings:

Brewing master, Uli Schindler, leads you through his brewery and explains his craftsmanship. Round off the day with a dinner in a pleasant atmosphere. Mr. Schindler will have a sympathetic ear for all your questions and chats about his daily work.

Attendees: 10 – 15 people

Costs: €79 per person, including a 3-course menu,
tour and beer tasting of three types of beer

Reservation: online www.nockherberg.com or biertour@nockherberg.com

BEER TASTING

You can order the beer tasting in advance or spontaneously in the tavern and receive optionally a set with 5 or 10 samples. The set has cards with an accurate description of the different kinds of beer. Our service staff is also more than happy to briefly explain the various – often home-brewed – types of beer and their specialties. Please kindly note that the types of beer we serve are seasonal and subject to availability. Furthermore, you will receive a map of the brewery, with which you can go on an individual tour.

Anytime available on site.

Costs: set with 5 samples €7.50
set with 10 samples €15.00

0.1l per sample size

take-away tasting glass: €3.00

IMPORTANT TIPS FOR THE RIGHT BEER TASTING:

1. OPEN YOUR EYES

Is the beer bright/dark, clear/cloudy? What color does it have? What consistency does the froth have?

2. SMELL

Swirl the glass, lead it then to your nose and absorb the beer flavor with some strong breaths. How do you describe the smell?

3. TASTE

Initial taste – the first taste impression determined by a full-bodied taste, depends on the original wort

RECENCY – appearance of freshness of the beer, depends on the acidity and CO₂ content.

AFTERTASTE – the last taste impression, depends on the bitter taste of the hop.
